MAKING A SPLASH

Why: Salsa Splash, the launch of dating company The Big Blind, at Tharen's Restaurant and Bar, Kings Cross.

Where: Tuesday, September 8. What: The Sydney singles scene turned out in force to experience the new dating incentive with a difference. Salsa lessons combined with donning the novelty hats on display at Tharen's proved to be the perfect ice breaker to get the surprisingly balanced crowd of guys and girls mingling. Creator Gina Lednyak said the night had dispelled the myth that there was a "man drought" in Sydney. Visit www.tomorrowdate.com.

1. Tash Nicholson and Alex McAlister. 2. Isabelle Beament and Christian Gomez. 3. Karen Vogel and Shawna Roberts. 4. Benjamin Winegarden, Bethany Kennedy, Jessica Lousick, Carina Johnson and Nathan Hosking. 5. Gina Lednyak and Mark Antonio. 6. The singles scene salsa the night away. 7. Gina Lednyak and Sam Brett.

VALUING THE ARTS

What: Rainbow St Public School's inaugural Connect, Create, Inspire arts festival.

Why: Parents sprang into action to remedy cuts to the school's art budget. The festival celebrates and promotes creative arts as an important part of a balanced education.

Who: Hilary Webster, Dennis Long and Katherine Arrowsmith.

RED HOT PARTY

What: Ruby L'otel spring launch party.

With: Guests enjoyed special Ruby caprioskas and spring cocktails, and were treated to an exclusive preview of Channel 9's Rescue Special Ops star Les Hill's soon-to-be-launched new wine range, Seven Sundays.

Who: Ruby Rose on the decks.
